Students from NL Dillard participated in the Math

League Press contest. The Math League has Math Contests for Grades 4 through 8, Algebra I students, and High School students. Over one million students from the United States and Canada participate each year. The students at NL Dillard competed with 12 schools in sixth grade and 13 in seventh and eighth grade. This year, over 700 students took the Math League Press contest that is in the same region as NL Dillard Middle School and our students did well. In sixth grade, Carmelo Crutchfield and Heather Edwards scored in the top 39 students in our region. Eighth grade as a whole ranked fourth place for all states that participated in the contest and fourth on our region. Also in eighth grade, there were 3 students who placed in the Top 39: Tanner Loftis, Cannon Edwards, and Sam Ensley.

Junior BETA Club recently inducted several members. The event was held virtually and each school will post videos on their school website. Caswell County Schools is excited to announce that NL Dillard Middle School is a 2020-2021 National Beta School of Merit. The school earned this recognition by offering Junior National Beta to all eligible grades on their campus. Bobby Hart, CEO said "Thank you for your continued support of National Beta and commitment to developing future leaders!"

STONEY CREEK ELEMENTARY

Spring is in the Air....The Yellow Tulip Project proved just that!

The Yellow Tulip Project at Stoney Creek addresses positive mental health educational skills for students and their families. The program began by planting hope gardens in the fall and welcoming the flowers in the spring. The purpose of a Hope Garden is to instill hope and happiness. Yellow tulips symbolizes hope and happiness.

Students at Stoney Creek Elementary are reading books and discussing the acronym H-O-P-E.

- H = Happy with myself
- O = Open minded or open to grown & change
- P = Peace or perseverance
- E = Education or expectation that good will result.

After the students read the book, they will write what their hope is for the future and share great messages of hope with each other.

Stoney Creek Panthers are also connecting with others through the Panther Pen Pal program. The program functions within the school where students are paired with other students from different grade levels to write notes or letters. Mrs. deAristizabal, School Counselor, is working with the teachers and students to promote positive peer relationships as well as work on writing skills. The students take pride in corresponding with their pen pal, and are excited when they have mail! The teachers are also pairing with each other to peer teach and give feedback, which promotes a healthy culture for them as well!
