Refer to student services staff and/or outside agencies for mental health services as needed

Conduct functional behavioral assessments and behavior plans when needed to address student needs

Resource Guide:

Supports for Students

- School counselors, a school psychologist, and a school social worker will be available to support student social and emotional learning needs.
- School counselors will have access to videos and resources that are available to students and parents regarding social and emotional learning and needs. School counselors will work with students individually or in small groups to address any social and emotional needs.
- Support for students will also be provided through training other staff on student and family check-ins, indicators of mental health, universal coping and resiliency skills, and suicide risk assessment.
- Staff will develop, teach, and model behavioral expectations

Supports for Staff

- School counselors will have access to videos and resources that are available to teachers/staff regarding social and emotional learning and needs.
- Help teachers/staff members develop self-care plans as needed
- Regular check-ins with teachers/staff to address coping/mental health needs and provide supports and community resources as needed
- Vetted self-care resources will be shared with staff
